

THE PMS PRACTITIONER

Privacy Notice

Version	V1
Date	2 September 2026
Status	In use
Jurisdiction	UK GDPR and EU GDPR, as applicable to the client's country of residence
Practitioner	Coline Mazeaud, DipNT, ANP Registered, trading as The PMS Practitioner
Companion documents	Client Terms and Conditions; Client Consent Form; Appropriate Policy Document (internal — supports Section 10 of this notice)

1. Who We Are

Coline Mazeaud, trading as The PMS Practitioner, is the Data Controller — the person who decides how your data is used and is legally responsible for it. Coline practises as an individual; there is no separate company involved.

ICO registration number: CSN0592128.

No Data Protection Officer is appointed (the mandatory-appointment thresholds under UK GDPR Article 37 aren't met for a practice of this size). Coline is personally responsible for data protection and is your contact point for any data-protection query: thepmspractitioner@proton.me.

2. What This Notice Covers

This notice explains what information is collected as part of the Rhythm Reset programme, why, who it's shared with, where it's stored, how long it's kept, and the rights you have. It should be read alongside the Consent Form and the Terms and Conditions. Where documents describe the same thing, this notice gives the fuller detail.

It also covers what happens if you sign up to Coline's newsletter via the website — whether or not you go on to book the Programme. That's a separate, much smaller strand of processing, described in Section 3.

3. What Information We Collect, and Why

Identity information

Your name, email address, phone number, age, and country of residence, collected at booking.

- Name and email — to identify you and communicate with you
- Phone number — held for scheduling and occasional urgent contact regarding your care
- Age — to confirm the minimum age requirement is met, and for clinical context (Coline does not hold your date of birth, only your age at booking, as a whole number)
- Country of residence — to confirm the Programme can be offered to you under Coline's insurance, and to apply the correct data protection framework

Health information

Your responses during the Initial Consultation and throughout the Programme, including but not limited to: current symptoms and medical diagnoses; medication and supplement history; family medical history; nutrition and dietary habits; digestive health; menstrual and reproductive history; sleep, stress, and energy levels; mood and emotional wellbeing; skin, hair, and nail health; and any other information relevant to building a full picture of your health across the body's systems. This is special category data under UK and EU GDPR, used exclusively to build and adjust your Plan.

GP letters and onward referral

As part of the Programme, Coline may prepare a written letter or summary for you to share with your own GP — for example, to request further tests or investigations. You're responsible for taking this forward with your GP; Coline does not send these directly. This is separate from, and does not involve, the safeguarding provision described in Section 10, which covers only the narrow circumstance of Coline contacting your GP directly, without your consent, in a genuine risk-to-life situation.

Your GP's contact details

Collected at booking. Held for one purpose only: the safeguarding circumstance described in Section 10. Coline does not otherwise contact your GP.

Clinical notes

Notes Coline records throughout your Programme, forming part of your clinical record (see Section 7 on retention).

Payment information

Handled by Practice Better's integrated payment processing (Stripe and/or Square). Coline does not store your card details. A basic transaction record (amount, date, reference) is kept for financial-accounting purposes.

Newsletter sign-up (website visitors)

If you tick the newsletter checkbox on the PMS self-assessment tool or the Register Your Interest form on Coline's website, your name and email address are sent to Kit (formerly ConvertKit), the email marketing platform Coline uses to send newsletters. This applies whether or not you go on to book the Programme, and doesn't involve any health information. You can unsubscribe at any time using the link in every email, or by contacting Coline directly.

4. The Legal Bases We Rely On

- Performance of a contract (Article 6(1)(b)) — the core basis for the ordinary processing needed to deliver the Programme you've booked: your account, your booking, and your Plan.
- Consent (Article 6(1)(a)) — specifically for newsletter sign-up, given by ticking the newsletter checkbox on the website. This is separate from, and doesn't require, booking the Programme. Withdrawable at any time by unsubscribing or contacting Coline directly.
- Explicit consent (Article 9(2)(a)) — the condition under which your special category health data is processed for your care. Given via the Consent Form; withdrawable at any time (Section 8).
- Legal obligation (Article 6(1)(c)) — for financial-accounting records, retained for the period required by law regardless of withdrawal. These contain no health information.
- Legitimate interests (Article 6(1)(f)) — for keeping evidence of the consent you gave, and limited internal record-keeping of the same kind.
- Vital interests (Article 6(1)(d)) and substantial public interest (Article 9(2)(g)) — for the safeguarding circumstance in Section 10, the latter through the safeguarding-of-individuals-at-risk condition in the Data Protection Act 2018 (Schedule 1, paragraph 18), with Article 9(2)(c) applying additionally where you're incapable of giving consent. An Appropriate Policy Document covers this processing (see Section 10).
- Defence of legal claims (Article 17(3)(e), with Article 9(2)(f) for the retained phase) — the ground on which your data, including your identifying details, is retained under restricted access after withdrawal, rather than deleted outright (Section 8).

5. Who Processes Your Data

Coline Mazeaud is the sole Data Controller. The following process data on her behalf:

- Practice Better — the practice management platform used for booking, forms, secure communication, your Plan, and payment processing
- Practice Better's payment sub-processors (Stripe and/or Square) — for payment processing only
- Kit (formerly ConvertKit) — the email marketing platform used to send newsletters to those who sign up via the website. Only used if you've ticked the newsletter checkbox.

Coline does not sell your data, use it for any purpose beyond delivering the Programme or the newsletter you signed up for, or share it with insurers, employers, or any third party not listed above.

6. Where Your Data Is Stored and Transferred

Practice Better, Coline's practice management platform, stores client data in North American data centres operated by Amazon Web Services (AWS) and Box.com, located in the United States and Canada.

International transfers of your data to these data centres are subject to appropriate safeguards under UK and EU GDPR, as set out in Practice Better's own Data Processing Agreement with its infrastructure providers. Further detail on Practice Better's sub-processors is published at trust.practicebetter.io/subprocessors, and Practice Better's own privacy policy is available at practicebetter.io/privacy.

Kit, the platform used to send newsletters, is based in the United States. If you sign up to the newsletter, your name and email address are transferred there under the EU-U.S. Data Privacy Framework, the UK Extension to the EU-U.S. Data Privacy Framework, and the Swiss-U.S. Data Privacy Framework, backed by Standard Contractual Clauses and the UK's International Data Transfer Agreement where needed, as set out in Kit's own Data Processing Addendum, available at kit.com/dpa.

No other international transfers: your data isn't sent anywhere else, and isn't disclosed to any third party not named in Section 5.

7. How Long We Keep Your Data

Your data — including your contact details, GP contact details, consultation notes, Plan, and related correspondence — is retained under restricted access for 7 years, then automatically and permanently deleted. The 7-year period runs from the later of the end of your Programme or your withdrawal date.

There's no statutory duty requiring this specific retention period (Coline isn't a regulated healthcare provider), but it reflects the limitation period for civil claims in England and Wales and standard UK clinical record-keeping practice, consistent with professional indemnity insurance expectations. Financial-accounting records are kept separately for the period required by law.

8. Withdrawing Your Consent

You may withdraw at any time by emailing thepmspractitioner@proton.me. Withdrawal ends the relationship: Coline stops collecting any further information about you, and no further sessions take place.

Whether this affects your fees depends on timing, following the same rule as the rest of the refund policy: if you withdraw before your Initial Consultation, you'll receive a full refund; if you withdraw afterwards, no refund applies. See the Terms and Conditions for the full refund policy.

What happens to your data

Everything you've already provided — your name, contact details, GP contact details, consultation notes, Plan, and any correspondence — is retained securely under restricted access for 7 years from the later of the end of your Programme or your withdrawal date, and is not accessed again except where necessary to establish, exercise, or defend a legal claim, or to meet a professional-standards requirement. Nothing is deleted early. This reflects the limitation period for civil claims in England and Wales, standard UK clinical record-keeping practice, and Coline's professional indemnity insurance requirements. At the end of the 7-year period, your data is permanently and automatically deleted.

Access to your Plan after withdrawal

Withdrawal ends your access to Practice Better and your Plan. Download a copy before withdrawing if you'd like to keep one. Withdrawal has no effect on the Programme already delivered.

9. Your Other Rights

- Right of access (Article 15) — request a copy of everything Coline holds about you
- Right to portability (Article 20) — request your data in a structured, machine-readable format
- Right to rectification — ask for inaccurate information to be corrected
- Right to restriction or objection — get in touch to discuss; note that your data is already held under restricted access following withdrawal (Section 8)

- Right to complain — raise it with Coline first (Section 12); you can also complain to the ICO at any time: ico.org.uk | 0303 123 1113

To exercise any of these rights, email thepmspractitioner@proton.me. Coline will respond without undue delay, and in any case within one month, as required by UK GDPR (and, where applicable, EU GDPR).

10. Safeguarding — When Coline May Contact Your GP Without Your Consent

Please read this carefully. You're being told about this upfront because transparency here matters.

Your GP's contact details are collected at booking. In the ordinary course of the Programme, Coline does not contact your GP; any recommendation to see your GP is made to you directly, for you to act on.

There is one narrow exception. Where Coline judges there is a genuine and immediate risk to your life, she may contact your GP, or emergency services, directly and without your prior consent.

The legal bases are Article 6(1)(d) (vital interests) and Article 9(2)(g) (substantial public interest), met through the safeguarding-of-individuals-at-risk condition in the Data Protection Act 2018 (Schedule 1, paragraph 18); Article 9(2)(c) applies additionally where you're unable to give consent. This processing is covered by an Appropriate Policy Document, maintained separately, which sets out how this category of data is safeguarded and retained. Every safeguarding concern — whether or not GP contact is made — is recorded in your clinical notes within 24 hours, and is retained for 7 years as set out in Section 7, regardless of any later withdrawal.

11. Data Breach Notification

If a data breach occurs that's likely to result in a high risk to your rights, Coline will notify you without undue delay. Where required, the ICO is notified within 72 hours of Coline becoming aware, in line with Article 33 UK GDPR (and, where applicable, EU GDPR).

12. How to Contact Us, and How to Complain

For any data-protection question or request, contact Coline Mazeaud at thepmspractitioner@proton.me. If you wish to complain, please raise it with Coline first so it can be put right. You can also complain to the ICO at any time: ico.org.uk | 0303 123 1113.

13. Updates to This Notice

This notice may be revised from time to time. Material changes — those that alter how your data is processed or affect your rights — will be communicated to active clients and, where they affect consent, will require re-consent. Minor clarifications will be communicated but don't require re-consent. The version of the Consent Form you signed is preserved as part of your consent record.

Notes for Future Review

Internal working note, retained for Coline's reference — not shown to clients.

- Retention period (§7) — cross-check against the full wording of Coline's Balens/Zurich policy record-keeping conditions once available.
- Appropriate Policy Document (§10) — review together for consistency, and confirm review-date/renewal process.
