

THE PMS PRACTITIONER

Client Terms and Conditions

Version	V1
Date	2 September 2026
Status	In use
Jurisdiction	England and Wales
Practitioner	Coline Mazeaud, DipNT, ANP Registered, trading as The PMS Practitioner
Companion documents	Client Consent Form and GDPR Privacy Notice (separate documents — clinical consent and data processing; must be read alongside these Terms)

About These Terms

These Terms and Conditions (the “Terms”) set out the agreement between you (the “Client”, “you”) and Coline Mazeaud, trading as The PMS Practitioner (“I”, “me”, “my”), when you book and take part in the Rhythm Reset programme (the “Programme”).

These Terms cover what the Programme includes, how payment and booking work, what happens if either of us needs to cancel or reschedule, and how disputes are handled. They are separate from the Client Consent Form and the GDPR Privacy Notice, which cover clinical consent and how your personal and health data is collected, used, and stored. All three documents apply once you book the Programme, and you'll be asked to agree to each of them.

Please read these Terms carefully before booking. If anything is unclear, get in touch before you go ahead.

1. Definitions

- the Programme / the Rhythm Reset — the minimum 8-week nutritional therapy programme described in Section 3, comprising the Initial Consultation, the Plan, two Follow-up Calls, and Email Support.
- the Initial Consultation — the 90-minute session at the start of the Programme, covering comprehensive history-taking across medical history, medication history, lifestyle, environment, and work-life balance.
- the Plan — the personalised nutrition, lifestyle, and supplement plan prepared for you following the Initial Consultation.
- Follow-up Calls — the two 30-minute review calls included in the Programme, spaced 4–6 weeks apart, used to review progress and adjust the Plan.
- Email Support — email access to Coline between calls, for questions arising during the Programme.
- Booking — the point at which you reserve a place on the Programme, sign the Consent Form, and payment is confirmed.
- Working Days — Monday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Coline's regular days off are Tuesday and Wednesday.

2. The Parties

Coline Mazeaud trades as an individual practitioner under the name “The PMS Practitioner.” This is not a registered company. Contact: thepmspractitioner@proton.me. No postal address is published; contact by email for any correspondence.

You are the Client — the individual who books and pays for the Programme.

These Terms form a binding agreement between us from the moment Booking is complete.

3. The Rhythm Reset Programme

3.1 What's Included

- The Initial Consultation (90 minutes)

- A personalised nutrition, lifestyle, and supplement Plan, built around your history and explained clearly — not just what to do, but why it's right for you
- Two Follow-up Calls (30 minutes each), spaced 4–6 weeks apart
- Email Support between calls
- A minimum 8-week relationship with Coline, often closer to 10–12 weeks once both Follow-up Calls are complete

3.2 What's Not Included

The Programme does not include, and is not a substitute for:

- Medical diagnosis of any condition
- Prescription of medication, or any change to medication you've been prescribed
- Emergency healthcare — if you are experiencing a medical emergency, contact your local emergency services
- Ongoing monitoring or support beyond the scope of the Programme, unless separately agreed

Nutritional therapy is not a regulated healthcare profession in the UK. Coline is a qualified Nutritional Therapist, not a medical doctor, and does not diagnose, treat, or cure any condition. The Plan is nutritional and lifestyle guidance intended to support and help manage symptoms — it works alongside, not instead of, your relationship with your GP or other medical providers.

3.3 Who the Programme Is For

The Rhythm Reset is built on a root-cause, whole-body approach to nutritional therapy — it isn't limited to a single named condition or category of health concern. While Coline's content and marketing focus primarily on PMS, the same approach can apply just as well to endometriosis, PMOS, and a wide range of other health concerns, whether or not they're hormone-related. If you're unsure whether the Programme is a good fit for your situation, book a free 10-minute call or send an email before booking, and Coline can advise directly. The Programme is intended for adults aged 18 or over.

If Coline decides not to proceed before the Initial Consultation has taken place, a full refund applies. If, during or after the Initial Consultation, Coline determines your case requires the involvement of a medical professional or another practitioner, the Initial Consultation and Plan are still delivered in full; a partial refund applies, reflecting the two Follow-up Calls not delivered, and Coline will support you in finding appropriate help elsewhere — for example, a letter for your GP or a referral to another practitioner. See Section 6 for the full refund policy.

3.4 Where the Programme Is Available

The Programme is delivered entirely online and is available to clients worldwide, with the exception of the United States and Canada, in line with Coline's professional indemnity insurance. Cover is conditional on Coline's qualifications being recognised in your country of residence — this is checked with each prospective client individually before booking is confirmed.

The regulatory status of nutritional therapy varies by country — in some places it's a protected title, in others (including the UK) it isn't. Coline checks the relevant position based on your own country's regulations with each prospective client individually, as part of confirming eligibility above.

3.5 No Guaranteed Outcomes

Coline takes reasonable care to deliver the Programme to a professional standard, informed by your history and current best practice in nutritional therapy. She does not guarantee specific health outcomes. Results vary between individuals, depending on factors including adherence to the Plan, individual physiology, and other health conditions.

4. Booking and Payment

4.1 How Booking Works

Many clients start with a free 10-minute call (booked via Calendly) to check the Programme is a good fit before committing. The Programme itself is booked as a single package through Practice Better, Coline's practice management platform. As part of that same booking flow, you'll be asked to complete the Consent Form and acknowledge these Terms before your booking is accepted. Booking is complete once the Consent Form is signed and payment is confirmed.

4.2 Payment

The Programme costs £250, payable in full at the time of booking, through Practice Better's integrated payment processing (Stripe and/or Square). Coline does not store your card details.

4.3 Programme Access Window

Once booked, your Programme package must be used within 16 weeks of purchase. This gives you room for the Programme's typical 8–12 week span plus reasonable flexibility for rescheduling, while keeping sessions from being left open indefinitely. If you're concerned you won't complete the Programme within this window, get in touch before booking.

5. Cancellations, Rescheduling, and No-Shows

5.1 Rescheduling

You can reschedule the Initial Consultation or a Follow-up Call free of charge, with no limit on how many times, provided you give at least 24 hours' notice.

5.2 Late Cancellation and No-Shows

Cancelling with less than 24 hours' notice, or not attending a scheduled session, is treated as follows:

- Initial Consultation: a late cancellation or no-show results in the loss of one Follow-up Call from the Programme (the Programme continues with one Follow-up Call instead of two).
- Follow-up Call: a late cancellation or no-show results in forfeiture of that session. It is not rescheduled or refunded.

Coline may use her discretion to waive this in genuine exceptional circumstances — get in touch as soon as you can if something's come up.

6. Refunds

Refunds are handled as follows:

- Cancel before the Initial Consultation takes place — full refund.
- Cancel after the Initial Consultation has taken place — no refund for the remainder of the Programme, as this reflects the clinical work and Plan already completed. In exceptional circumstances, a partial refund may be considered at Coline's discretion; this is not a client right.
- Coline decides not to proceed before the Initial Consultation has taken place — full refund.
- Coline determines, during or after the Initial Consultation, that your case requires the involvement of a medical professional or another practitioner — the Initial Consultation and Plan are still delivered in full, and a partial refund applies, reflecting the two Follow-up Calls not delivered. Coline will support you in finding appropriate help elsewhere, for example a letter for your GP or a referral to another practitioner.
- You withdraw your consent under the Consent Form and Privacy Notice — the same timing rule applies as above: full refund if this happens before the Initial Consultation, no refund if it happens after.

7. Your Responsibilities

To get the most from the Programme, and to make sure it's safe and appropriate for you, you agree to:

- Provide accurate and truthful information during the Initial Consultation and throughout the Programme. The Plan is built on the information you provide — incomplete or inaccurate information may mean the Plan isn't right for your situation.
- Let Coline know promptly if your health situation changes materially during the Programme.
- Continue to consult your GP or other medical providers for any medical concerns. The Programme supports your care but does not replace your relationship with your doctor.
- Treat Coline respectfully in all communication.

8. Data Handling

How your personal and health data is collected, used, stored, and protected is set out in full in the GDPR Privacy Notice, a separate document you're asked to review at Booking. These Terms don't duplicate that document.

In summary: Coline is the sole data controller for your data — there is no separate company involved in processing it. As a UK-based practitioner working with clients across the UK and EU, Coline complies with both UK GDPR and, where applicable, EU GDPR. Your data is not used for marketing without your separate consent, and is never sold to third parties.

9. Limitations and Disclaimers

9.1 The Programme Is Not Medical Care

The Programme provides nutritional and lifestyle guidance, including supplement recommendations, to help support and manage symptoms. Supplement recommendations are suggestions, not prescriptions — you're under no obligation to take them. The Programme does not constitute medical diagnosis, medical treatment, or a prescription. It's designed to work alongside medical care, not instead of it: if you have a medical condition, please continue to see your GP or another qualified medical professional alongside taking part in the Programme.

9.2 No Guarantee of Specific Outcomes

Nutritional therapy outcomes vary between individuals. Coline does not guarantee that following the Plan will resolve or significantly reduce any specific symptom. The Plan is prepared to a professional standard based on the information you provide; its effect depends on factors including your individual physiology, adherence, and other health conditions.

9.3 Limitation of Liability

Nothing in these Terms excludes or limits Coline's liability for:

- Death or personal injury caused by negligence
- Fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation
- Any liability that cannot be limited or excluded under UK law

Subject to the above, Coline's total liability to you in connection with the Programme is limited to the fee you paid for it (£250). Coline holds professional indemnity and public liability insurance (currently arranged through Balens/Zurich) which sits behind this and covers claims arising from the Programme; this contractual cap does not affect your ability to claim against that insurance where applicable.

This cap is set at the fee actually paid, rather than an arbitrary lower figure, so that a client retains a meaningful remedy — this is the approach generally treated more favourably under the Consumer Rights Act 2015 (s.62), which governs unfair terms in consumer contracts. The Unfair Contract Terms Act 1977 now applies mainly to business-to-business contracts, its consumer-contract provisions having been largely superseded by the Consumer Rights Act 2015.

10. Intellectual Property

The Plan is prepared for your personal use. You're welcome to share it with your own healthcare providers (for example, your GP) and to keep a copy for your own records.

The Rhythm Reset methodology, materials, and any templates or frameworks used to deliver the Programme belong to Coline. You may not reproduce, distribute, or commercially exploit these materials.

You retain ownership of the health information you provide. You give Coline permission to use that information to deliver the Programme to you, as set out in the Consent Form.

11. Changes to the Programme and These Terms

Coline may update these Terms from time to time. You'll be notified of any material changes by email before they take effect. If a change materially affects your rights or obligations under an active Programme, you'll be asked to re-confirm your agreement. Minor clarifications that don't materially affect you will be notified but don't require re-acceptance.

The version of these Terms you agreed to at Booking governs your Programme until you accept an updated version.

12. Complaints and Disputes

If you have a complaint, please contact Coline directly at thepmspractitioner@proton.me in the first instance. She's committed to resolving concerns promptly and fairly. If a complaint can't be resolved this way, either party may pursue the matter through the courts, as set out in Section 13.

13. Governing Law

These Terms are governed by the law of England and Wales, and any disputes are subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales, regardless of where you are resident. This does not affect any mandatory consumer protections you're entitled to under the law of your own country of residence, where applicable.
